ABOUT US

Bohemian Crystal

CRAFTED FROM SAND

Bohemian Crystal draws on local natural wealth, together with the masterful craftsmanship and indomitable will of its people to embellish the world. The beginnings of the glassmaking tradition in Bohemia are closely tied to the production of pearls. But it was already in 1724, that Josef Palme obtained permission to produce chandeliers, enabling Bohemian Crystal to finally blossom in its full glory and illuminate Europe with its mesmerizing brilliance.

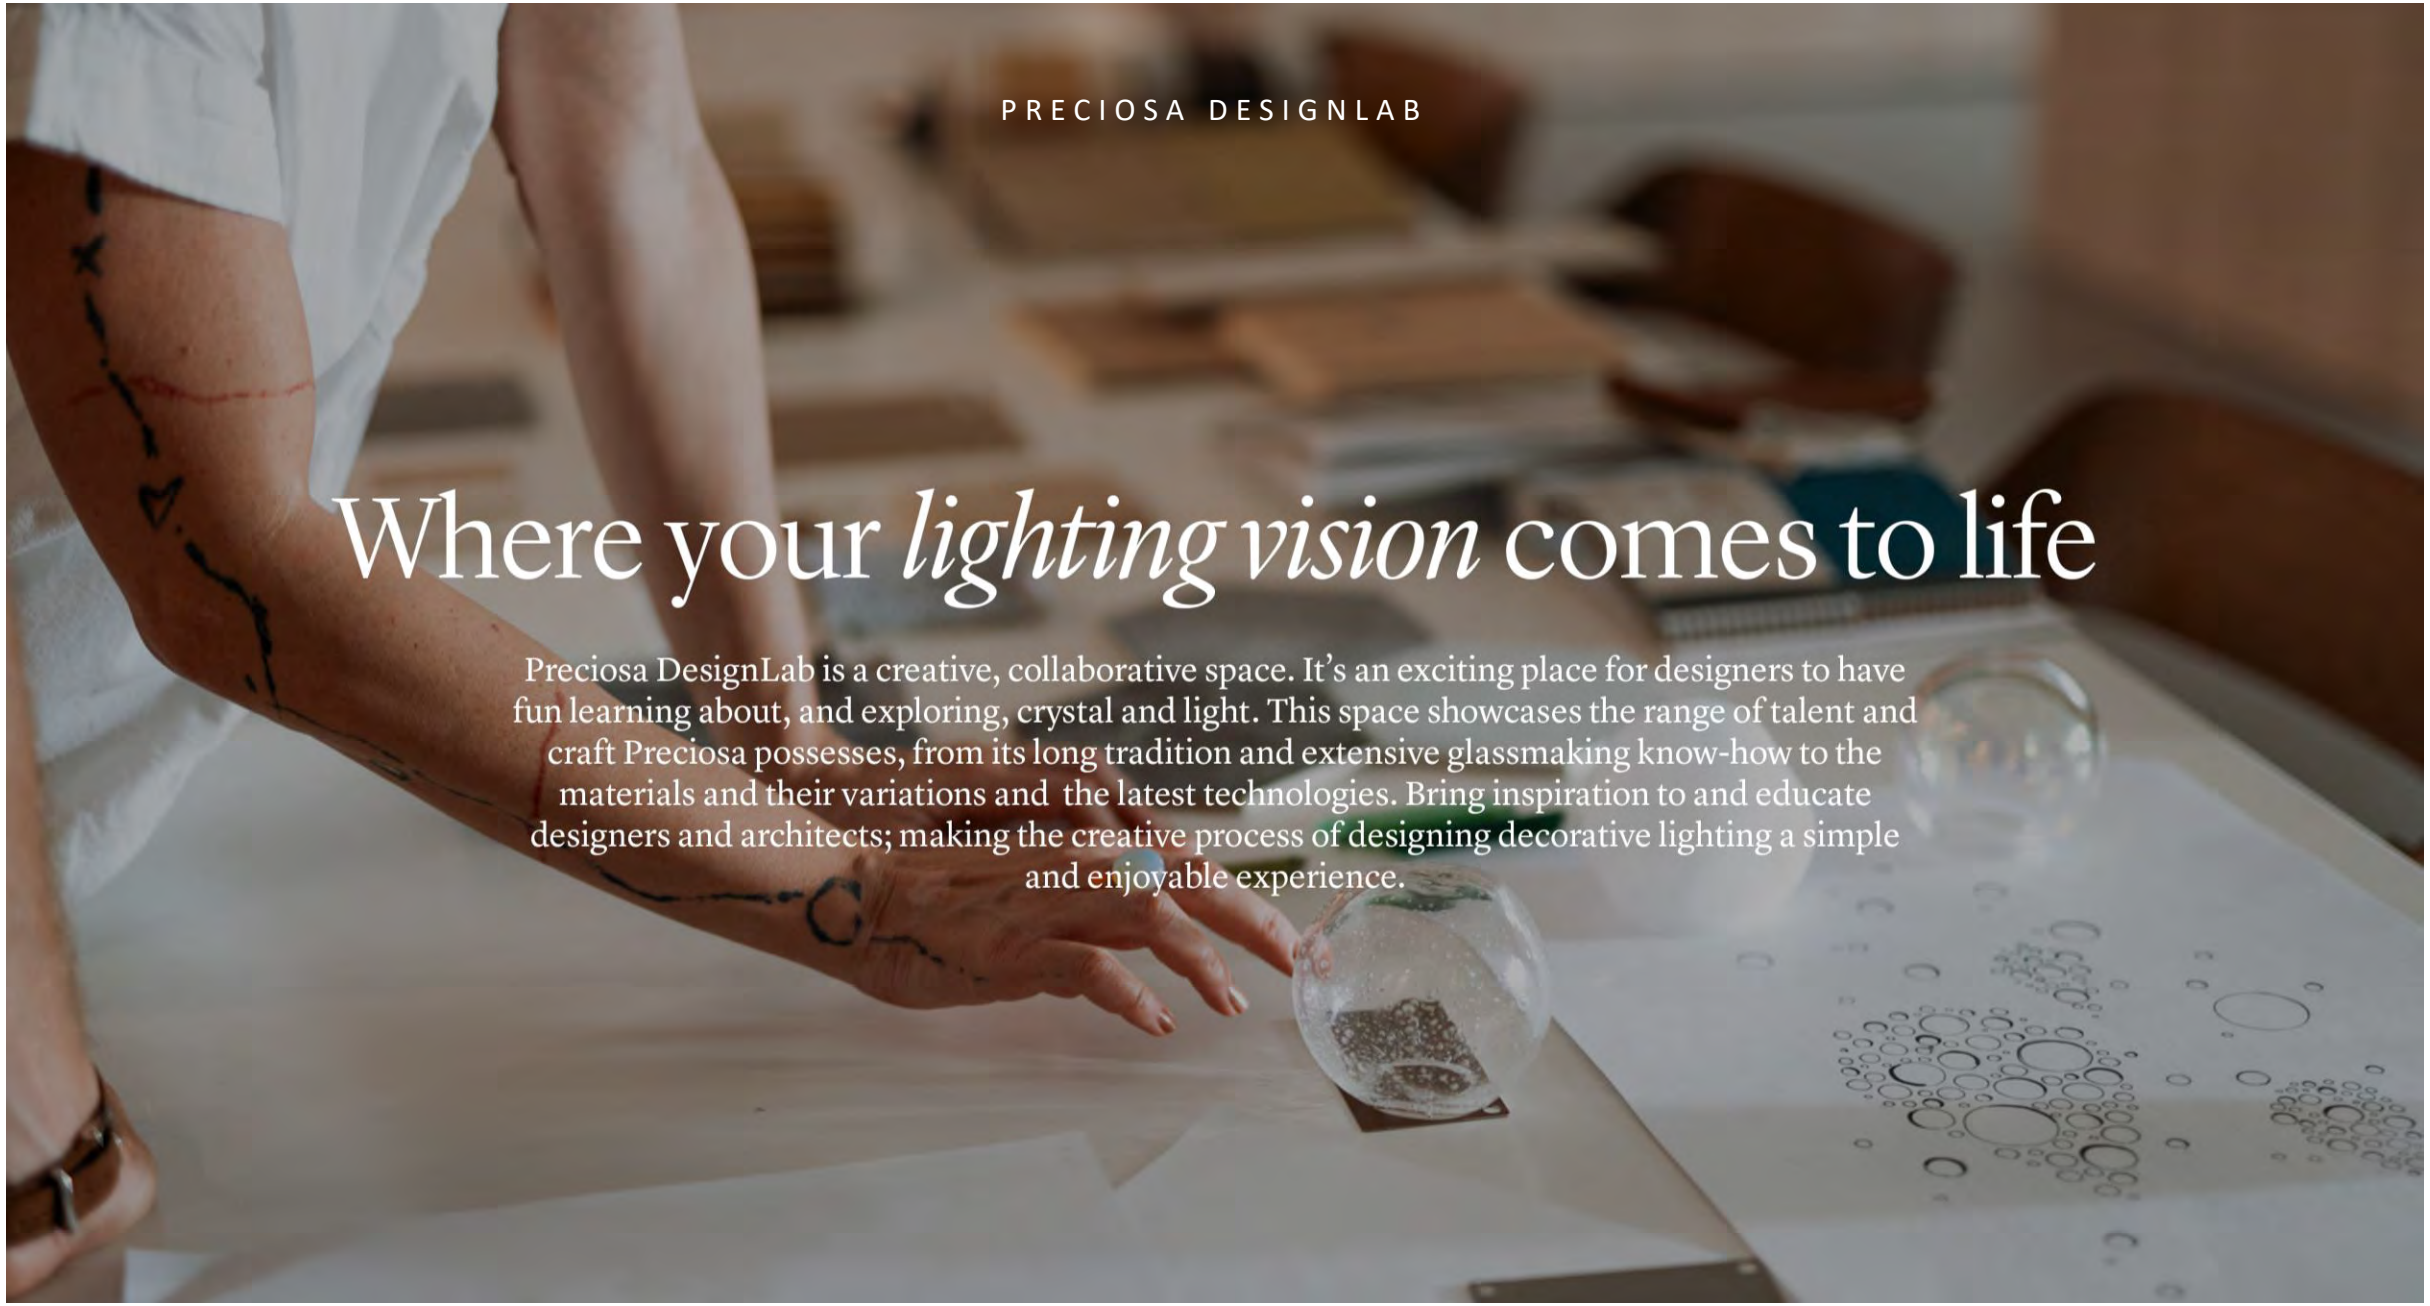

Bohemian Crystal and chandeliers soon made their way to being one of the most sought-after possessions, along with famous pieces from England, France or Italy. The Bohemian chandeliers went on to adorn manors of many noble elites and sovereign families.

Pearl Curtain

INTERACTIVITY THROUGH MOVEMENT

Preciosa's goal is to connect people and bring about emotions through light "We always try to touch people emotionally and one of our strategies to achieve this is to remind people of experiences or feelings they experienced as children." said Mr. Vasku.

The Pearl Curtain concept is inspired by the rich draping of curtains in formal spaces. The gentle movement of textile is translated into soft waves of vertical component groups. Similar to curtains, the design allows for the "layering" of colors or materials. The design presents a rich and opulent geometrical impression while keeping a clearly contemporary style.

With our Carousel of Light, an interpretation of the Pearl Curtain, the most obvious interaction is the light following every movement of the people on it. And no true carousel would be complete with rocking horses; once a visitor sits on a horse and starts rocking, the installation will respond to this action and take them back to their childhood.

Pearl Wave

CELEBRATING SPECIAL MOMENTS

Inspired by sea waves and the shape of a seashell. Pearl Wave's contours remind how the sea moves and flows at will. Consists of handmade crystal spheres, preferably made from triplex opal crystal. Special sound activated interactive feature - it reacts to the happiness surrounding it. The more people cheer, the more Pearl Wave comes alive. It can be installed on yachts.

Breath of Light

INTERACTIVITY THROUGH BREATH

Breath of Light is one of the most intriguing designs Preciosa has created. It demonstrates that with design and technical ingenuity it is possible to transform the properties of chandeliers into playful installations “It will be a fascinating experience that will not only create many smiles, but also make guests’ catch their breath in awe.”

The inspiration for Breath of Light actually came from Preciosa’s exhibition at Salone del Mobile in 2017. Part of the installation gave people the opportunity to experience classic chandeliers illuminating a dark space only lit by candle light – just as chandeliers did historically before electricity. As Mr. Vasku explains, “Lighting the candles on a chandelier is an emotional ritual, the same as blowing out the candles’ flames – we simply reversed the idea of blowing out candles to exhaling light into a chandelier.” He adds that breathing is a poetic yet unconventional way of interacting with an object, and with other people.

Pearl Drop

THE ELEGANCE OF THE PEARL

Pearl Drop is a statement lighting piece, classic in its reference to pearls but modern in the simplicity of its overall shape. Crystal pearls, created from triplex opal and crystal are threaded with smaller metal spheres. This creates a gentle distance and contrast between each pearl, hinting at the tiny knots found on actual pearl necklaces. Because of the simplicity of the components, the design can be constructed into a variety of shapes.

The pearls are illuminated from inside but due to the rich depth of the crystal and triplex opal material, it remains a beautiful bright sculpture in natural light. Jewelry and lighting serve a similar decorative purpose. One can consider the allure of jewels when designing for attractiveness but the refinement and placement of each individual pearl is how remarkable lighting is created.

While the concept using opal components aims for a contemporary minimalistic appearance, the use of crystal clear cut spheres creates a more luxurious and sparkling piece.
