MASTERPIECES FROM ITALY

“Meridies” Chandelier

The light sculpture ‘Meridies’ takes its place of honour framed by the majestic marble staircase and gilded plaster mouldings in the Grand Hall of “The OWO” - Old War Office - the historical building where Churchill based the headquarters during Second World War.

The artwork consists of two vertically-aligned spheres made of the finest Venetian crystal.

Two worlds representing different cultures, are united in their quest to create beauty.
“Meridies”, a gem by iDOGI and the Raffles Hotel, brings the Old War Office in London a new gleam and meaning.

The inspiration for “Orione” comes from the constellation of the same name. The luminous band that surrounds it is composed of pure hand-cut crystal elements set in precious black marble to resemble the Orion’s Belt constellation.
